

PATRICE BELTON

Healthcare Professional | Community Advocate | Mentor

BIOGRAPHY

Ms. Patrice Belton is a dedicated healthcare professional, mentor, and community advocate with more than 20 years of experience serving others through compassionate care, leadership, and mentorship. Born in South Florida and proud to call Georgia home for over 30 years, Patrice has built her career and community impact around uplifting others and creating spaces where people feel supported, empowered, and valued.

Throughout her healthcare career, Patrice has become known for her strong leadership, loyalty, and people-centered approach. She leads by example while fostering positive, encouraging, and solution-focused environments. Her passion for advocacy and mentorship drives her commitment to helping individuals recognize their value, strength, and potential.

Beyond her professional work, Patrice remains deeply committed to community service and outreach. She believes strong communities are built through hope, encouragement, and genuine support systems. Guided by compassion, integrity, and purpose.

Patrice continues to make a meaningful impact by empowering others and strengthening the communities she proudly serves.